

VIII. B) Draft Ordinances & Ads

Town staff and the Town Attorney have been working for some months on clarifying and refining certain sections of the Town Ordinance. These changes are intended to help reduce inconsistencies, provide for certain uses in certain districts, and attempt to solve operational and/or enforcement issues.

Within this section are several draft ordinances that will go before the Planning Commission, the Town Council, or both, in the coming months. Also included are two draft ads for the proposed advertisements at each body.

The relevant draft ordinances and ad will be shared with the Planning Commission during their meeting on October 11, 2017. The Commission will be handling the Lodging House issue as an Action Item so that we may formally advance their recommendation to Council at the Council's November regular meeting.

The intent is for both groups to get an early look at these proposed changes and comment for revision prior to formal advertisement beginning. We encourage you to review these items and provide any thoughts or suggestions. My thanks to the Chief, Brooke Newman, and Jason Botkins for their efforts in advancing these issues to this point.
