DEAR MS. BROOKE

There is a 4 lanes where N. Broad. S t and E. main. st met up theres a cross walk made with bricks and also other cross walks are the same in that area. It is ruff and bumbie for us people in wheelchairs and others with disability issues when i went on that crosswalk it was hurting my back. plus had to rush across before timer ran out. last week me and a friend was there videod all this. my friend pushed the button for me. i' was ready to cross .i saw white figure came on i started to cross then before i knew it then went to red hand and count down i was like what the? my friend said go ur turn.as i was crossing a truck pulled out on cross walk not letting me go a cross he acted like he didn't see me. so i had pull back and re do my crossing. we got guys truck/plate numbers to. my friend videod all this to. after i cross my back was hurting. let you know i have a rod in my back lower part. we videod the bad spots in town that we can get. theres other crosswalks we use and again no one stop let me go thu its like hello i'm going to cross. they didn't stop. let me cross. 2 times now. now theres sidewalks with poles in the middle .we can't cross it. 1 thing we only have to do is . the road e.main.st we have to use the street to go on..then we get back on the sidewalk. few areas on sidewalk are dangerest to us wheelchairs 3 more times we end up useing the street. even harder during the week with cars parked on side of the road . that most dangest times for us. we could get killed or hurt . we don't drive cars. we relie on our wheelchairs scotter walkers daily lifes. i'm planning on doing more videos asap.
